

TOTA

Connecting People Through Culture

TOTA.world provides easy access to cultural knowledge and a sharing community to help you deepen connections with your family across generations and with diverse cultures throughout the world.

- Explore and engage with others around content from your favorite places and cultures.
- Create, upload and share your family stories, traditions, recipes, cultural expertise and other interests.
- Join or create groups focused on specific cultures, cuisine, art, travel, hobbies and more.
- Start a family group to share and preserve your heritage and cherished memories of today.
- Join a discussion on a topic of interest or create your own.

Get Started at
www.tota.world

TOTA Traditions of the Ancestors

A Message from Our Founders

We began this project with a vision to provide accurate and comprehensive cultural information in one easy-to-use website.

Culture influences us all, from how we lead our daily lives to how we view ourselves, our families, and the world. In our own studies, it became clear to us that nearly all cultures share the same fundamental wisdom. Yet, in our cultural research across the internet, we found that much of the information was inaccurate, disperse, and not easily searchable. Many strong sites and articles from scholars and experts were inaccessible to the general public, especially for topic-specific content like local cuisine and lifestyles. It is our intent to present cultural similarities, as well as our differences, side-by-side to expand people's understanding of their cultural identity and that of all peoples.

TOTA.world is partnering with cultural organizations and experts to offer the broadest range of accessible, accurate, and detailed cultural information to the general public. We believe that such content will enrich our understanding of ourselves and our neighbors, locally and globally.

TOTA.world seeks to create a community where people come together to celebrate the uniqueness of individual cultures as well as the common threads that connect us all. Members will be able to join cultural groups, stay connected locally, and share information to inspire and enrich everyone.

This is a monumental project that will never be finished. Many talented individuals have already contributed their time and energy to TOTA.world, but it remains incomplete without your unique perspective.

Please join us today to help us connect people through culture.

Michael Felts
FOUNDER & CEO

Jeff Hoyle
FOUNDER & COO

Get Started at
www.tota.world

TOTA Traditions of the Ancestors